This is a brief information about the TTF compilation "Paleofonts V. 2", composed by Vasil Gligorov in 2006, from freeware True Type Fonts authored by other individuals, to which goes a full credit for their work, moral and legal, and whose intellectual property all of these fonts are.

1.) The purpose of the fonts compilation "Paleofonts V. 2" is to provide redistribution of various ancient scripts in form of TTF files to the interested target audience, composed mostly of students and academics working in the field of broader historical studies.

2.) The author of this compilation, Vasil Gligorov, had a de facto function of mediator between the genuine authors of these free fonts and the audience, and his main goal was to provide a concentrated source of these fonts (279 in total) , whose separate download from various sites on Internet would be an extremely time-consuming process. None of these fonts was modified by the author of this compilation in any way.

3.) These TTF fonts have been tested under various Windows platforms (98, Me, 2000 , XP) as well with "Microsoft Office 2000" and "Open Office" and no instance of problem, glitch, bug, crash or malfunction was recorded.

4.) If you have technical question or other questions directly related to the installation and proper use of these fonts, including Windows and selected versions of Linux (Suse 10, Xandros Desktop) and their handling with Microsoft's "Office 2000", "Open Office" and "Adobe Acrobat", please contact me at my email: vasil.gligorov@gmail.com . This also applies for the questions of historical and philological nature.

5.) Do not sell, charge, modify, plagiatarise or use for any commercial purpose whatsoever any of these fonts. If you have any suggestion for their improvement, try to contact their authors, but have in mind that some of these fonts are "abandoned" as a projects long time ago.

I wish you creative work with these fonts.

Regards,
Vasil Gligorov
